

CERTIFICATE OF RECOGNITION PROGRAM
COR/SECOR Fee Structure Announcement

Enform's COR services are partially funded by oil and gas employers through their WCB premiums. These employers, defined by their WCB industry codes, are considered "Members" of Enform. Enform provides its Member companies with COR certification services at no additional cost. (Employers operating solely in BC do not need to be defined by an industry code to be Enform Members, because the WorkSafeBC COR funding model is not related to the employer's industry type.)

Companies with WCB industry codes other than those assigned to Enform, or companies operating outside of BC, Alberta or Saskatchewan, are considered "Non-Member" employers. As of January 1, 2010, Enform will be charging Non-Member companies an Annual Fee for their COR/SECOR certification services.

Enform's Annual Fee will not apply to Member employers in Alberta and Saskatchewan with an Enform-assigned WCB Industry Code, or to Member employers operating exclusively in BC. However, BC-based companies that also operate outside of BC may be subject to the Annual Fee depending on the WCB industry code(s) they carry in the other provinces. Non-Member employers may wish to contact their provincial WCB to determine whether they are already funding another Certifying Partner through their premiums.

New Non-Member employers will be notified of Enform's COR fee structure and prompted to pay the Annual Fee when they first register with Enform. Existing Non-Member employers will be prompted to pay the fee prior to a new audit being registered.

Enform's fee structure for Audit Quality Assurance (QA) Reviews will remain unchanged. This fee will continue to be charged per audit regardless of the employer's industry classification.

Enform is steadfast in its dedication to the health and safety of the oil and gas industry and its commitment to the COR program. The COR is a proven way for employers to improve their health and safety performance, reduce risk and cost, and create a culture of proactive workplace health and safety that exceeds occupational health and safety legislated compliance. Enform adds even greater value to the COR, with world-class health and safety management training, auditor training and certification, and COR Audit QA Review process. While our focus will remain on petroleum industry employers, we will also continue to provide our COR certification services to Non-Members wishing to take advantage of Enform's recognized COR/SECOR program. The Annual Fee will ensure all of Enform's COR holders pay for and receive the highest quality COR certification services available.
